DAILY FASHION HINTS FROM VOGUE

FOR TOWN OR COUNTRY

The smart woman knows the necessity of including several silk crepe or fine cloth frocks that are simple and conservative enough for a morning's shopping and sufficiently charming to be appropriate for the matinee or tea hour. A long redingote tunic, rolled back to form an extended Tuxedo model collar, is the noteworthy feature of this frock of crepe marocain, which is shown at the left, and which may have long or short sleeves. The frock at the right is a long-waisted, circular version of the ever-popular chemise frock which has won an undisputed place in the present fashions. Deep bands of worsted or chenille embroidery make an effective trimming along the Florentine neckline and low hipline.

MISS LUCY MASON HEADS WOMEN VOTERS' LEAGUE

Fills Vacancy Caused by Resignation of Mrs. G. T. W. Kern, New Office Secured.

Mrs. Lucy Randolph Mason, was yesterday chosen to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. G. T. W. Kern, who resigned the office because conflicting duties did not permit her to become city chairman. Mrs. Frank L. Johnson, the league's first vice-chairman, has been acting chairman since Mrs. Kern relinquished the position.

It was announced that the league has secured an office in the Virginia Railway and Power Building and headquarters will be moved to the new office on June 19. The V. R. & P. Building is the home of the South Atlantic field committee of the V. W. C. A., and the fact that many women are in the habit of using the building makes it auspicious for the league.

Miss Mason, in her speech of acceptance, said in part:

"The League of Women Voters is one of the most potent and hopeful influences for good in our present political situation. It has been organized by women who have an ideal for our country, who believe that public men can be made the disinterested service of the public, and who realize that the very newness of women in the electorate demands of the woman citizen special thought and study."

"Critics said that though the league was supposedly nonpartisan, such a thing was impossible and that women would have their天然的 tendency to support or oppose parties and candidates. Many months of national organization has shown that women can work for principles and be nonpartisan. Neither nationally nor locally has the league attempted to be affiliated with any party. Every woman shall be allowed to choose her party."
